Meadow Creek Dairy Appalachian

Milk: Cow (raw)

Appalachian is a lush, vibrant cheese evocative of cream and butter with a mushroom earthiness that recalls the intensity of the cellars. Its lemon notes shade to toasted as the cheese ages. The texture is velvety, melting on the tongue.

GLEN MANOR

Front Royal

Hodder Hill

Hodder Hill is a structured red blend focused on the terroir of Glen Manor's mountain farm made from select harvests. It is named for Raymond Hodder Rudacille, the second generation of the Manor family to farm and live on this land.

This wine is a blend of 68% Cabernet Sauvignon, 14% Merlot, 14% Petit Verdot, 4% Cabernet Franc.

The warm and dry harvest produced a wine with ripe fresh berry flavors. The blend of grape, soil, barrel, and vintage produces a wine of multi-layered complex flavors, combined with a solid framework of natural acidity and tannin which promises great further bottle development. Bottled unfiltered and unfined.

The word "Meritage" combines "merit" and "heritage." The term identifies wines that represent the highest form of the winemaker's art - blending. It distinguishes these wines from the more generic "red table wine."
